SIXTY KILLED!

Full Account of the Terrible Accident Which Befell an Excursion Party Yesterday.

BASLIN, June 15.—A fearful accident occurred in Switzerland yesterday. A railroad bridge across the Moenichenstein, a small affluent of the Rhine, in the canton of Basclee, not far from Germany, gave way yesterday under the weight of an excursion train, crowded with throngs of people who were on their way to a musical fete. Two engines and the first car, with all its passengers, first plunged into the river, while the rest of the cars remained suspended over the stream. All the trainmen were killed, and every passenger in the submerged car was drowned. Thirteen cars were saved. The number of killed was at least sixty, and of those injured not less than one hundred. The fearful calamity has caused a terrible shock in Switzerland and South Germany. Rescuers hastened to the scene, and the injured were taken care of.

BASLE, June 15.—The total number who lost their lives is now placed at 120, with hundreds more or less injured.

BRUNE, June 15.—The musical fete at Moenichenstein, which the unfortunate excursionists on the wrecked train on the Moenichenstein and Bale railway yesterday were on their way to attend, was abandoned as soon as the news of the accident reached that place. Hundreds of the villagers hurried to assist in rescuing the victims. The bridge through which the train was precipitated was an iron skeleton structure, considered entirely safe. The collapse is ascribed to the train having left the rails, thereby throwing its entire weight on one side of the bridge. An investigation will be immediately ordered.

BASELER, June 15.—Up to the present hour fifty-seven bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the train which yesterday plunged through a bridge of the Moenichenstein and Baslee railway. Forty persons were severely wounded, and many others received painful cuts and bruises. Fears are entertained that many of the dead still remain entangled in the submerged debris. Gangs of men are working with untiring energy to recover the bodies of these victims, and to clear away the wreck. Baselee has, by this calamity, been transformed into a veritable city of mourning, as most of the victims of yesterday's appalling accident were among her leading citizens. Hardly a street but has its houses bearing the symbol of mourning. The railway station platforms and the approaches to the hospitals are alike crowded with pale-faced men and weeping women, who come forward to look upon the features of the dead or wounded as they are conveyed on stretchers and in ambulances to home, hospital or morgue. The uncertainty as to how many bodies may rest beneath the wreck adds to the strain and excitement of the time, and everywhere people are anxiously attempting to locate absent relatives and friends. While the iron work of the bridge seems to have snapped like a pipe stem, the masonry remains absolutely intact.

TWO CASUALTIES.

A Yacht Run Down--Accident to a Boating Party.

NEW YORK, June 15.—As the sloop yacht Amelia was returning from Nyack, N. Y., to Hoboken, N. J., last night she was run into and sunk by the tug boat, F. W. Devoe, off 112th street, North river. The yacht carried eleven passengers, of whom two were drowned. Their names are Frank Jenkins, aged forty-two, and Wm. Dahn, aged sixteen, of this city. The others were rescued by the tug. Capt. Thomas Walsh, of the tug, was arrested and arraigned in court this morning, charged with homicide. The captain of the yacht lays all the blame on the tug's captain.

TROY, N. Y., June 15.—John Adams, the nineteen-year-old son of a farmer of Chubb's Dock, and Miss Josie Orr, eighteen years of age, a daughter of Wm. Orr, of Whitehall, were drowned in Lake Champlaine last evening while alighting from a pleasure boat at Chubb's Landing. As they neared the dock Adams attempted to jump ashore and in doing so he careened the frail craft and frightened Miss Orr. She sprang to her feet, and a sudden lurch precipitated both into the water. Neither could swim, and assistance arrived too late to be effectual in saving them.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 15.—By the capsizing of their boat, J. Donaldson and Ida Lundberg were drowned last night in Lake Union. Both clung to the overturned boat for some time and sank just as assistance was on hand.

Dr. Smith Resigns.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 15.—The Rev. Dr. E. Smith, of the Hartford avenue Reformed Presbyterian church, yesterday preached his farewell sermon, and announced to the congregation that he could no longer consistently be a member of a church in this free country that forbade its ministers exercising the right of franchise. Dr. Smith says he will seek admission to the regular Presbyterian church.

THE KEYSTONE BANK.

Mr. Drew Explains a Few Things Not Known Before.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 15.—United States District Attorney John R. K. Read said last night, in regard to the statement of Comptroller Lacey that he (Lacey) supposed him to be in full possession of knowledge of the criminal acts of Marsh: "I wish to say positively that I had no knowledge of any criminal act by any living official until after the bank was closed."

Mr. Drew was seen last night in regard to the comptroller's statement that his reports did not show the true condition of the Keystone national bank and said that he was confident the reports showed the condition as accurately as could be entertained by him at the time made. Regarding the statement that he had been directed to suspend examinations for the present, Mr. Drew furnishes the following letter from Mr. Lacey, dated June 5th, which he did not interpret at the time as signifying suspension: "Your favor of the second came to hand by due course of mail. I note what you say in reference to the proposed resolution of Mr. Elting and also the attacks made upon yourself. I also note that you are pretty near through with your work connected with the two failed banks and will be ready to resume your regular duties. I have to suggest that before resuming examinations I should like to have a conference with you and go over the matters which have attracted so much attention during the past three months. You have been so fully employed as custodian of the assets of these two insolvent banks that I did not care to have you take the time to come over here, but as soon as I can get a little leisure and you are free from the banks in question I shall be glad to arrange for you to come over for a conference."

FAT VS. LEAN.

A Great Game of Ball to be Played Soon.

The following challenge has been received at this office for publication:

To the Lean Men:

The fat men, in whose behalf I speak, have "got it in" for the lean men, and we know of no easier way to crush them than to give them a lesson in the national sport. I, therefore, speaking for a combination of heavy-weights, who together will tip the beam at 2,000 pounds, do hereby challenge you to play a game of ball at some public place for a purse of anything from $1 to $5,000 a side, the time and place to be hereafter named.

REINHARD SOMMERS,
Weight, 364 pounds.

A SENTINEL reporter has learned that the challenge will be accepted, the captain of the lean men to be either Capt. 'Gene Smith or L. A. Worch. The game will probably be arranged to take place on the Fourth of July. An effort is being made to secure League park. The heavy weight challenger whose name appears above is the well-known representative for C. L. Centlivre, who goes popularly by the cognomen of "Kettle."

TIRED OF LIFE.

A West Virginia Professor's Horrible Self-Destruction--Two Other Suicides.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 15.—Prof. Jesse Richards, manager of the West Virginia short hand school, committed suicide Saturday night in a horrible manner. He fired two balls through his head and then, death not coming quick enough, he slashed his throat with a razor, nearly severing the head from the body. No cause for the terrible act is known.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 15.—Early yesterday morning the body of Fred H. Hayden, a smelter laborer, was found lying beside the Denver and Rio Grande railroad track about a mile below Bessimer Junction. A hole was discovered in the back of his head and the body was badly bruised in several places. Hayden had been on a spree for several days. He had no money, yet sufficient doubt exists as the cause of the death to warrant the coroner in delaying the inquest until today in order to investigate the affair.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Despondent over his mother's death, actor James L. Edwards committed suicide yesterday at the Beaumont hotel, by taking morphine. Edwards was the leading man in a stock company organized by H. R. Jacobs to play four weeks in Chicago. The company closed a week's engagement at Havelin's theatre Saturday night. Edwards was about thirty-five years old. He was a native of Waltham, Mass., and adopted the stage as a profession about a dozen years ago. He was called a most promising leading man.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

An Electric Car Has a Very Serious Accident.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 15.—A serious accident occurred on the Mess Hill street car line last evening. An electric car jumped the track while rounding a curve on a steep grade and crashed into the wall of a livery stable at the side of the street. Few of the passengers had time to jump and a number of them were seriously injured. Rev. W. H. Rankin was badly cut on the head and had the flesh stripped from his left ankle; Miss Florence Roberts, of Ithaca, N. Y., sustained several cuts on the left arm and face; W. G. Roller, motor man, received internal injuries in the region of the chest, and the year-old baby of W. A. Kling had its face badly disfigured.

A THIEF DROWNED.

He Drives Into the River in His Efforts to Escape.

CHICAGO, June 15.—While the Dearborn street bridge was opened at 1:15 this morning to allow an ore laden barge to pass, a man drove south over the viaduct at full speed. Three men shouted to him that the bridge was open. He tried to stop, but man, horse and buggy went over the brink into the river. The man was not seen again and the horse was drowned. The police identified the horse and buggy as belonging to Mr. Henderson, at State and Indiana streets. The theft of the rig had been reported to the police and they believe the drowned man to be the thief.

No Truth in It.

PARIS, June 15.—M. Roche, minister of the colonies, has received a dispatch from M. DeBrasseau, the well known French explorer in Africa, which indicates that there is no truth in the recently published report that the members of the expedition from Loangounder that M. Paul Crampell had been massacred, roasted, and devoured by the Matonga natives. The latest news received direct from the mission by the minister of the colonies was to the effect that the expedition was within fifty days march of its destination, lake Tohad, and that all was then well.

Sold to Foreigners.

BUTTE, Mont., June 15.—It is said that the Anaconda mine has been sold to a foreign syndicate and that August Belmont, acting as the agent of the Rothschilds has been instructed to close the deal. It is understood that the papers which make the transfer a legal transaction are in transit. The exact figures paid have not been quoted, but enough is known to say that they range between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000. The new company will probably be fully equipped and ready to work the mines by the 1st of September next.

A Syndicate After It.

BOSTON, June 15.—A syndicate of New Yorkers are negotiation for the purchase of the Boston Journal. About ten days ago E. A. Peter Shelvin, John Hogan and Tom Dolan were out on a drunk. They were very disorderly about 10 o'clock last night, on the railroad track between Broadway and Fairfield avenue, and were arrested by Officers Loos and Lapp. The mayor sent them to jail. There is a charge of vagrancy pending against the fellows. There were four drunks arraigned before the mayor. Their names were John Dobson, Isaac Smith, James Harrington and John Smith. A FIERCE MAD DOG.

A Canine With Frothing Mouth and Flashing Eyes Causes a Stampede--Several Bitten.

A mad dog had its dangerous liberty on the streets of this city yesterday. Four persons and as many dogs were bitten before the canine was killed. A mad dog, with froth running from its mouth and eyes flashing fire, is enough to terrorize any neighborhood, but it is hard to describe the panic that usually follows the discovery of such an animal running loose upon thoroughfares that are much traveled by pedestrians.

"Colonel," the mongrel spaniel owned by Harry Bradley, the son of Capt. and Mrs. William Bradley, of the Central hotel, although usually an affectionate dog, showed symptoms of going mad yesterday morning, a condition that was first noticed when Harry took his pet to the river. The water spaniel naturally takes to water but "Colonel" refused to go near the banks upon this occasion. It is well known that a dog with the rabies has an abnormal dread for water. The symptoms of rabies became more pronounced when the dog reached home. He snapped at anything and everything that came in his way, tore the sash from one of the domestics of the house and dashed here and there without any apparent familiarity of his surroundings until Miss May Bradley coaxed him to follow her out into the street; but hardly had they reached the sidewalk before the dog sprang at the girl's wrist, and fastened its teeth in the flesh. After she shook the animal off a stream of blood trickled from the wound. Messrs. Crawford and Lawson, boarders at the house, who witnessed the dog's attack, reported the matter at the police station. In the meantime Mrs. Bradley, accompanied by her daughter, started with the dog for the station, taking the East Wayne street route. When near the livery stable of Fred Meyers, the maddened canine attacked a dog owned by Dr. William Myers, the veterinary surgeon. The attaches of the barn corralled the spaniel in a stall, but now thoroughly crazed the canine jumped over a nine foot partition into the very midst of the assembled barn hands. While Dr. Myers was procuring a revolver the dog leaped upon a colored lad named Charles Scott, felling him to the floor and fastening its teeth upon his upper lip.

At this juncture the doctor reappeared with a revolver, and kicking the dog from its victim he sent two 32-caliber balls into its body. The dog died after a hard struggle. The wounds of the Bradley girl and the colored boy were cauterized and it is believed that there will be no serious results from them. Two other persons, one a Varner girl, residing on Montgomery street, were attacked by the dog, but the wounds were only harmless abrasions of the skin. Several dogs that were bitten are being searched for and will be slain immediately.

Mrs. Bradley said that her dog had acted strangely for several days, but not until yesterday were the signs of rabies made manifest. Within the past week a fighting disposition has been growing upon the heretofore peaceful canine. During the parade of the railroad men it made an attack on the bull pup owned by Will Geiger, agent of the Adams Express company, receiving in the fight a bad wound. Since then the dog gradually grew worse.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Observed Pleasantly at the First Presbyterian Church.

Yesterday was Children's day at the First Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the audience room was crowded with the scholars of the Sabbath school and their friends. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Leeper, followed with responsive reading by the school. Interesting addresses were made to the scholars by Mr. James McKay and Professors Crowe and Brannon, each of them speaking on the subject of the responsive reading, "Sowing and Reaping." After a song by the infant class, Dr. Moffatt spoke in a pleasant way to the children. The exercises were interesting throughout and pleased the large audience in attendance.

A WELL EXPLOSION.

A Peculiar Accident--Mrs. Emma Summers Injured.

Natural gas leaked from the mains into an old well on the premises adjoining Scheiffer's East Washington street drug store, and rendered the water so impure that the well was abandoned.

Last evening a colored lad lit a cigarette and threw the lighted match into the well. An explosion that shook the earth followed. The old fashioned windlass was sent skyward in numerous sections, and one of the boards from the same struck Mrs. Anna Summers, who sat on a doorstep in the next yard, but she escaped serious injury. The little donkey, who was frozen to the spot with terror, escaped harm.

PROMINENT VISITORS.

Dr. Wright, of the Central Insane Hospitals, and Others Coming.

Dr. Charles E. Wright, superintendent of the Central hospital for the insane, of Indianapolis, accompanied by the trustees of that institution, will arrive in this city tomorrow noon, and inspect the electric light plant at the feeble minded institution. Dr. Wright is the superintendent of the largest hospital for insane in this country, and under his able management the Central hospital of Indianapolis occupies the front rank among similar institutions. The wisdom of his selection for that important and responsible position is recognized by all parties, as the doctor possesses to a remarkable degree the confidence and esteem of the people of our state irrespective of political affiliation.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

An Interesting Union Meeting Held Last Evening.

The union meeting of the Christian Endeavor societies of the First and Third Presbyterian churches and the Congregational church was held last evening in the audience room of the Third Presbyterian church and was largely attended. The services were conducted in the usual manners observed by these societies, prayer, singing and speaking being the principal features, all of the societies taking a part.

Rev. Ainslie, the pastor of the Congregational church, opened with prayer and gave a talk on Christian endeavor work. He said the society was intended as an aid to the church and helped to build it up. He closed by urging all the members to be faithful and work as co-laborers for their Master's cause.

Rev. Boggs, the pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, spoke on the Bible and how it should be read. It ought to be read with care and judgment and received as the words of our Heavenly Father to his children.

Dr. Moffat, the pastor of the First church, pursued the same line of thought followed by Rev. Boggs. He said we ought to read the Bible from beginning to end and study it with the best helps obtainable.

After singing, the meeting closed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Boggs.

SUPERB CHORUS CHOIR.

The One Singing at Taylor University This Week.

One of the features of the exercises at Taylor university, this week, will be the magnificent chorus choir, which will furnish part of the musical program. They were present last evening on the occasion of the delivery of the baccalaureate sermon at the university and made the large hall ring with their beautiful melodies. There is no perceptible discord, their voices blending harmoniously. The choir is under the direction of Prof. Miles and its proficiency is a testimonial of his ability as a musical instructor. Two of the principal members are the Misses Anna Rogall and Leo Long, whose sweet voices have so often charmed Fort Wayne audiences and who have no superiors as singers in local circles, at least. The following is the personel of the choir:

Director, Prof. Miles; pianist, Miss Rose Rodabaugh; soprano, Misses Anna Rogall, Leo Long, Phoebe Sells, Hattie Stemen, Mrs. Celia M. Fisher, and the Misses Buck, Conover and Cairn; alto, Mrs. S. R. Taylor and the Misses Martha Jones and Gertrude Gilbert; tenor, Messrs. F. Stafford, Darwin Root, Miller and Wolfe; bass, S. R. Taylor, Will Mahin, J. P. Jones, S. L. Gants, Will Conover and Mr. Nonamaker.

HOT DAYS BEGIN.

Yesterday Started Out to Eclipse the Record in This City.

When Old Sol began to peep above the horizon Sunday morning he looked innocent enough, but before 9 o'clock he had touched up the mercury to the extent of eighty-six degrees in the shade. He leered at sweltering humanity as he journeyed onward until at 2:30 o'clock the thermometer felt a thrill from stem to stern and up went the mercury to ninety-four in the shade. The record is taken from the coolest place that could be found about the police station.

A SUNDAY ROW

Disgraces the Affair at Centlivre's Park--Fort Wayne Shut Out by Peoria.

Yesterday's game between Fort Wayne and Peoria clearly belonged to the leather chasers from the Sucker state. They carried off the victory 5 to 0. The home team was plainly "not in it." One of the Peoria players disgraced himself and the whole affair by striking a boy who happened to be in his way while running. His action aroused the crowd almost to a riot. Only the cool words of Captain Hecker soothed them and saved the aforesaid player from a round drubbing.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Saturday afternoon the Evansville team faced the locals for the third time, and for the third time suffered defeat, thus showing the accuracy of our surmisings in Friday's issue. "Your Uncle Andy" was there, but did not entertain the audience with as much "chin music" as on previous days, but while he said very little, yet his looks indicated what he would like to do. When the game was finished he said he had but one request to make, and that was that Captain Hecker would cause the Peorias to eat as much dust of the Summit City as he had been obliged to do.

The game was replete with brilliant plays and the audience loaded with applause. A grand explosion occurred, which nearly raised the roofs of surrounding buildings and caused the bridgetes to cling fast for death, when with three men on bases and two men out, Conners stepped to the plate and with a mighty swoop sent the swine-enticed globe flying through the air. The base runners started for home, while "Shorty" O'Rourke started for the flying object like a spring chicken after a grasshopper. After a long, hard chase he turned to face the grand stands, threw both hands high over his head, gave a mighty jump, and landed on his back with the ball safely in his clutches.

Shellhause also drew forth a round of applause for the phenomenal catch of Holland's high foul.

"Can the Fort Waynes play ball?" asked a gentleman as he was passing from the grand stand. "Well, I guess they can!" replied one of the Evansville team, who had overheard the remark. Our team played without an error, while but two were charged the visitors.

Today and tomorrow we will be in it with the Peorias, and great games are anticipated.

The score of Saturday's game was 6 to 2 in favor of Fort Wayne.

LOVE'S LABOR NOT LOST.

Dassler, clerk in the machine department of the Pennsylvania shops. A reception will be held at the bride's home, 27 Wall street. Congratulations will be in order.

Wednesday, at 5 o'clock p. m., will occur the marriage of Miss Minnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boester, the carpenter, to Mr. Ferdinand Strassburg, the popular cashier of Root & Co. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride on Griffith street.

A SURPRISE.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock will occur the marriage of Miss Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hedges, of West Main street, to Robert Miller, the popular Nickel Plate conductor.

The bride elect will be remembered as a former teacher in the Hoagland school. The ceremony will be performed at the Bishop's residence, Rev. J. T. Delaney officiating. This marriage is a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties.

DROPPED DEAD.

A Well Known Resident Succumbs at the Supper Table.

H. H. Diffendorfer, a resident of Zanesville, about twelve miles from the city, dropped dead from heart disease, while sitting at the supper table, last Friday evening.

The deceased was for many years a painter in this city and lived here. He is about forty-five years old, and leaves a widow and five children, four sons and a daughter. The funeral occurred Sunday.

Mrs. D. Lumsden, of Chicago, as has been announced, will address the women of this city on Tuesday afternoon, the 16th, at Berry street M. E. church. Her subject will be: "Woman, her Health, Home and Happiness." No woman can hear Mrs. Lumsden and remain indifferent to her great responsibility as a mother. While not a temperance lecturer her views upon the problem and the solution she offers will, to many, be a revelation. Her advice to young women is beyond value in more words. To the mothers of the next generation she has much to say of caution and kindly admonition.

The school scholars will soon be enjoying their long summer vacation.

Our schools and colleges claim attention this week. Fort Wayne is proud of her schools.

Fireworks in the show windows of many of our local dealers remind us that America's Natal day is almost here.

The new appellate judges will wear black silk gowns, a distinction heretofore reserved for the supreme court of the United States.

The new bank building of Hon. J. B. White, on East Wayne street, which is now rapidly approaching completion, will be a handsome structure.

At the recent meeting of the Northern Indiana Editorial association at South Bend Maj. C. D. Tillo, of the Newspaper Union, was chosen a delegate to the national convention. The honor was worthily bestowed. The next session of the association will be held at Plymouth.

During the year 1890 there were 126 lynchings reported in the United States. There is no authentic data concerning lynchings in England for that time, but it is generally conceded that the United States leads England in the matter of inflicting the death penalty without a formal trial. There were 102 legal inflictions of the death penalty in the United States in 1890.

If the newspapers report Quay correctly in announcing that he will retire on his laurels from the chairmanship of the republican national committee, the plain English of the announcement is that Quay does not think there will be any laurels for the republican chairman in the next campaign. He is therefore willing to retire and give some other fellow a chance to marshal the party to a defeat.

Secretary of the Treasury Foster has decided to sustain Mr. Meredith, chief of the bureau of engraving and printing, in his controversy with the Knights of Labor, and has refused to direct the reinstatement of the plate printers discharged by Mr. Meredith. It is understood, however, that the discharged printers will be placed on piece work or on the extra force, and allowed to work their way up. They will not be given their old positions.

Prof. J. W. Harris, late superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Knightstown, who committed suicide at New Orleans on Wednesday, was a member of the class of 1878 at DePauw University, and it is a coincidence that his death occurred just thirteen years from his graduation day. He was not a young man when he went through college, for he had served in the war, years before, and was probably thirty-seven years old when he graduated.

A statue is to be erected to the memory of Christopher Columbus in one of the public parks of Chicago. It will be the gift of the Italians of the United States. The unveiling will take place on October 12, 1892, the 401st anniversary of the landing of the great navigator upon the Island of San Salvador. The design of the statue has not yet been determined upon. Those interested in the enterprise include some of the wealthiest, as well as most influential, Italian residents of Chicago.

The count of the cash in the vaults of the treasury consequent on the recent change in the office of treasurer, has so far resulted in the discovery of a discrepancy of a dollar. This is missing from a bag of silver in a vault containing nearly $70,000,000. The bag broke open by its own weight, and the decay of the canvass and its contents were scattered among the other bags. It contained one million silver dollars, all but one of which were found, and that one will probably turn up before the examination of the vault is concluded. Otherwise ex-Treasurer Huston will have to make it good.

SPOKEN TO GRADUATES.

Baccalaureate Sermons to the Senior Classes of the Westminster Seminary and Taylor University.

This week is emphatically a week of school and college commencements in this city. The "sweet girl graduates" will be the reigning stars in the educational heavens and all must do them homage. They bid farewell to the school life which they have followed for years and enter the duties of the big, busy world, but before they do so they make their final bow, and for this purpose "the stage" will be theirs this week. The first class to undergo this ordeal will be the senior class of Westminster seminary, composed of six young ladies. Their commencement exercises will be held tomorrow evening at the First Presbyterian church. On Wednesday evening a class of twenty-three scholars from our public schools will graduate, the exercises occurring at the Masonic Temple. The Taylor university have chosen Thursday evening for the graduating exercises of that institution, and on Friday evening the commencement exercises of the St. Augustines' seademy will take place. As incidental to these graduating exercises, two baccalaureate sermons were preached yesterday—one to the graduates of the Westminster seminary and the other to the graduates of the Taylor university.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Westminster Seminary was delivered by Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers, and when the young ladies of the seminary marched in and took seats in front, which had been reserved for them, the church was crowded. The Hayden quartette sang the opening hymn, and etc., Dr. Moffatt delivered his sermon. His text was taken from the 8th verse of the 3rd chapter of Philippians: "I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus, my Lord." The measure of true success in life, he said, after a brief introductory, depends upon our conception of Christ. We need a big Christ. We ought to fully understand His attributes and the religion which He came into the world to teach. The excellency of Christ's character stands preeminent above everything human and His love is boundless. We should begin life rightly, and the one way to do this is to take Christ into the heart. The knowledge of His character and faith and trust in Him will drive out skepticism and be a safeguard that will protect us through all the vicissitudes of life. The sunlight of day shines upon all alike. It sends its rays down upon the just and unjust. The sun of God's righteousness, His love, His mercy, His protecting and saving power is as free as the sunlight of day, but we must accept it in order to enjoy the benefits which it brings. While, therefore, you are storing your minds with the knowledge of this world, get correct conceptions of Christ and Christianity and press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

The doctor dwelt at length upon this and other branches of his subject, "The Excellency of the Knowledge of Christ," and closed with an eloquent exhortation to the young lady graduates of Westminster to seek this knowledge of Christ and they would be equipped for the trials, the temptations, the battles of life. It would be a help to them in joy and in sorrow, in prosperity and in adversity and would win them Heaven as a reward. The sermon was an eloquent and interesting one and held the large audience present attentive listeners until the close.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Taylor university was delivered by Dr. C. B. Stemen, the president of the institution, last evening, in the chapel of the university. There was a large audience present. The exercises were opened with the reading of the scriptures by Rev. W. M. Van Slyke, the pastor of the Berry street M. E. church. Rev. G. M. Eldridge, pastor of the Wayne street M. E. church, offered a fervent prayer, and after singing by Professor Miles' chorus choir, Dr. Stemen arose and commenced the delivery of his discourse.

He took as his text part of the fourth verse of the third chapter of Psalms, "What is man that thou are mindful of him?" "Know thyself," he said, "is an exhortation that has come down to us through the ages. The study of man is one of the most important of subjects, and is too often neglected. Men engage in business and the different pursuits of life, without having gained that knowledge concerning themselves which they should obtain. They often neglect the improvement of their minds and fail to look after the eternal interests of their soul. Know thyself physically, mentally and spiritually, should be the first concern of every one.

Man is wonderfully made. What wonders his hand and his brain have accomplished are shown by the inventions and the discoveries that are constantly being brought to light. Man is a material and an immortal being. The body will crumble to dust, but the soul will live on through an eternity of ages. Man is a rational being, and as such is accountable for his acts. He is under the law and will be punished for a violation of it. Death entered the world by sin, and condemnation came to all because all have sinned, but with that broken law came a saviour who has made a recompense and an atonement for our sins, and when the trials and conflicts of this life are over, if we are faithful to God, we can enjoy an eternity of happiness beyond the grave. This world would indeed be a dark and gloomy one if we did not have this promise. Death does not end all. There is a life to come and if we study ourselves and make our lives conform to the teachings of Christ it will be one of unending bliss.

The doctor closed with a few appropriately spoken words to the students of the university. Some of you, he said, will soon leave the college never to return. Your faithfulness during the past has endeared to the faculty and they will hope that as you go out into the world of busy life that success will crown your efforts. Devotion to a higher education cannot fail to bring you laurels. Lead upright, Christian lives and may God's blessings be with you all.

A large audience, in which the fair sex predominated, braved the intense heat and went to the Baptist church last evening to hear Pastor Northrop talk on "Defiance of Law, or the Open Back Door Sunday Saloon." The pastor said his subject was not a popular one in Fort Wayne, but open violation of the Sunday law made it necessary that something be done to stop it. He believed that if every one of the thirty-six ministers in this city would preach against this great evil a sentiment would be aroused among our people which would compel the authorities to enforce the liquor law. When approached upon the subject the mayor and police would say, "prove it," "file affidavits," etc., claiming that otherwise they were unable to stop the terrible traffic. The pastor noticed, however, that a few weeks before and after city elections the law was strictly observed. What power was it that closed the saloons then, and why could not the same power be brought to bear at all times? The sermon was preached out on this line and was a grand one, full of excellent thought, eloquently uttered. Pastor Northrop's subjects for several Sundays are as follows:

June 21—Sunday base ball playing; 1,400 people at a recent Sunday game. Why thus debase this manly, national sport!

June 28—The all-day Sunday club room, the resort of our young men. "I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness."

July 5—The gambler's den or the story of "The Spider and the Fly." Lift the curtain and see Genius in ruins. God, save our boys!

July 12—Literature which "is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Have you any hidden away in your homes! if so, burn it and bury the ashes.

July 19—The snare laid by "the strange Woman" to pull down the marriage altar and to lead captive our brightest youth. "Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death."

July 26—The saloon or the home? The wife or whisky? The babies or the cup? The gilded sample room or the lovely church home? Heaven or hell? Which? "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve!"

THE PRISON CROWDED.

Eight Hundred and Eight Convicts in the Northern Penitentiary.

While the cell room at the northern Indiana penitentiary has a capacity of some sixteen hundred, every other department is crowded to its utmost capacity, says the Michigan City Dispatch. In the dining-room Warden French is so pressed for room that he is compelled to seat a portion of the convicts in the kitchen. Heretofore the largest number of inmates at the northern prison was 783. On June first the number had reached 738, while to day the count shows 808, the largest number confined in the institution at any one time since its construction. There will be but ten discharged this month, unless Governor Hovey gets in his work, and it is expected that the count will reach 830 by July first. Warden French anticipates that the prison will contain over a thousand convicts before the present appropriation is expended. While the increase is enormous, the appropriation remains at the same figures when it was made to take care of 700 convicts.

A PRISONER DEAD.

George Holt, a convict, died in the prison hospital at Michigan City, Friday, from consumption. He was 30 years old and had been confined to the hospital for six months past. Holt came up from Indianapolis for ten years for assault with intent to commit robbery and had he lived until August 16th he would have been discharged. His mother lives at Franklin, Ind., but she is poor and telegraphed to have the remains interred at the prison. Accordingly they were buried in Greenwood cemetery at Michigan City Saturday afternoon.

The Deaths.

The following are the deaths reported by the city undertakers for the week ending June 13:

Theresa, a foundling, 1 month, spasms; R. Morgan French, 60 years, pneumonia; Kirby O. Jackson, 16 years, drowned; Baby Lange, 4 months, cholera infantum; Anna B. Sheridan, 70 years, paralysis; Ida Rippe, 10 months, death decay.

ON ONE WHEEL.

Roy Keator, Formerly of This City, on a Novel Tour.

Roy Keator, a former Fort Wayne boy, whose father was once the editor of the Gazette, is getting a reputation as a bicyclist that is world-wide. Mr. Keator and his cousin rode on their wheels from Chicago to Detroit, and at present are guests of the Detroit Bicycle club. Mr. Keator has been exciting the metropolitan press by his remarkable feats on one wheel, known as the unicycle.

The Detroit Free Press of today has this to say:

"The visit of the Keators is a remarkable one, because they are laying the way to one of the greatest feats ever performed by wheelmen. They left Chicago Saturday and rode here on their fifty-four-inch ordinaries. The roads were found to be bad, as fully half the distance is sandy.

"Roy Keator is today acknowledged to be the best unicyclist in the west, having the record of twenty-eight miles in three and one half hours without dismounting. They leave this afternoon for Buffalo, riding through Canada, and on Tuesday Roy will take part in the unicycle 220 yards dash, which is on the program of the athletic meeting there the first half of the week. They will ride from Buffalo to New York.

"'Our trip is merely one of inspection,' said Mr. Keator last evening, 'and if I find the roads good I will attempt to ride back from New York to Chicago on a unicycle. I expect to get a record on it and will if the roads hold good.'

"President Griffith, of the Detroit wheelmen, has induced Mr. Keator to give an exhibition of his skill as a unicyclist here today. He will leave Woodward avenue on Jefferson at 10 o'clock this morning and ride to Belle Isle astride a single wheel. It will be a treat for lovers of bicycling."

The Huntington Herald says: "A card party was given at the home of Miss Madge Murray, last evening, in honor of her guest, Miss Rose Gibson, of Fort Wayne. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was passed.—Mies Mary Randall came down from Fort Wayne at 2 o'clock and spent the afternoon with Huntington friends. She returns on the 5 o'clock train.—George Rausch was here Thursday shaking the hands of acquaintances. His folks formerly lived here, but now reside at Fort Wayne. He is stopping at Chicago.—John Zent and family, of Fort Wayne, are guests in the family of Frank Hoagland, the Herald's foreman, and will remain over Sunday. John is suffering from an injury to his knee, sustained while doing service at a fire recently."

SCARCITY OF LIME.

Building Operations Considerably Impeded on This Account.

Building operations in Fort Wayne have been considerably impeded this summer by scarcity of lime. All of the employes of the Huntington Lime works, whence the chief supply has been obtained, are on a strike that will probably last all season. Meantime the local dealers are receiving car load lots from Fostoria, Ohio. Huntington lime manufacturing is largely controlled by Fort Wayne capital, says the Business Guide, and from the kilns there a very considerable portion of the lime used in Chicago has been sent. It would be unfortunate, indeed, if the present labor difficulties should lose to the manufacturers the great profit of the Chicago market. The Wisconsin lime manufacturers now fill nearly all of the Chicago orders and hope that their profitable commercial relations are enduringly established.

The peculiar enervating effect of summer weather is driven off by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which "makes the weak strong."

In almost every neighborhood there is some one or more persons whose lives have been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Choler and Diarrhœa Remedy, or who have been cured of chronic diarrhœa by it. Such persons take special pleasure in recommending the remedy to others. The praise that follows the introduction and use makes it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Keepers of insane asylums say that crazy women as a rule are much smarter than the male patients, and require closer watching.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Peculiar To Itself In Strength, Economy, And Curative Power 100 Doses One Dollar Be Sure To Get Hood's

SANTA CLAUS SOAP

My Country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where our fathers died;
Land where our Mothers cried,
Over the wash-tub tied
Let freedom ring.
My native country thee—
Land of the noble, free—
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and hills
But oh! what laundry bills;
My soul with horror thrills;

And gladly try a cake,
Let all for cleanness take,

RAILROADS AND SHOPS.

Sad Death of Joseph Donavan—The Carpenters' Meeting—Local and Personal News.

Conductor Donavan, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, received the sad intelligence this morning of the death of his brother Joseph, who was a conductor on the Indianapolis and Vincennes road, with headquarters at Indianapolis. Last evening the deceased was burned to death by an explosion of gasoline, but the particulars of the accident were not given in the telegram. Mr. Donavan and his family left to-day, via the Wabash, for Indianapolis. The deceased leaves a widow and three children. He was a frequent visitor to this city and his many friends here will read of his demise with sorrow.

WRECK AT PLYMOUTH.

Wrecks on the Pittsburg are few and far between, but one will now and then occur to relieve the monotony of railroad life and give the boys something to talk about. A wreck occurred at Plymouth Saturday afternoon, which smashed into smithereens the caboose and six cars of the first section of No. 81, a west bound freight, and disabled engine No. 347, of the second section. At Plymouth these trains side track for 22. Conductor Blakesley was making the sidetrack and ran his train too far back. He was attempting to pull it ahead when the second section, under the charge of Conductor Majors, crashed into it and wrecked the caboose and six cars. Engineer Lyons was at the throttle of engine 847, which hauled the second section. He saw the danger and whistled down brakes, but the heavy train on the down grade refused to respond to the brakeman's efforts to check her speed in time to avert a collision. The track was blockaded for four hours and No. 22 went around the "horn" to reach this city. No one was injured and the loss to the company is small.

THE CARPENTERS' MEETING.

At the Trades and Labor hall Saturday evening occurred the annual election of the officers of the Carpenters' union, which resulted as follows:

President—D. H. Thiele.
Vice-president—W. H. Jackson.
Recording Secretary—A. S. Hagg.
Financial Secretary—H. L. Mollet.
Treasurer—C. H. Rippe.
Conductor—Geo. Bierline.
Warden—J. Aubry.
Auditors—J. Ems, H. J. Lapp and Fred Miller.

The carpenters have probably the most powerful of all the labor organizations in this city, and each week adds to their strength, both numerically and financially. A well known carpenter remarked to a SENTINEL man this morning that the day was near at hand when it would be impossible for a carpenter outside of the union to get a day's work in this city. Next Saturday evening the carpenters will give a public reception, when it is expected that the general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, H. W. Kliver, of Chicago, will be present and address the meeting.

THE WABASH GETS THERE.

While other western lines were wrestling with the question of special rates to the Grand Army encampment at Detroit, the Wabash quietly sent agents into Kansas and contracted for the bulk of the business from that state. This settled the matter. Other roads fell into line and one fare will be the rule from all points, though a strong effort was made to fix the rate at one and a third fare. It's a cold day when the Wabash gets left.

C. G. Cooper has taken a position in the Korr Murray works, having resigned the assistant foremanship in the machine department at the electric light works.

James Foley has been appointed a division superintendent of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Lincoln, Neb. Formerly Mr. Foley was a Wabash dispatcher.

A train loaded with coke, consigned to the Illinois Steel company, passed west over the Pittsburg this morning. The coke traffic is simply immense over that line at present.

There will be pay days each day this week: Monday, Olds works; Tuesday, Grand Rapids and Indiana; Wednesday, Pittsburg; Thursday, Wabash; Friday, Nickel Plate; Saturday, electric light works.

Robert Morrison has handed in his resignation as assistant foreman in the Pittsburg paint shops, and will take the foremanship of a large carriage factory at Defiance, Ohio, a position which is said to be more remunerative.

David Telvington, formerly engineer on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, but now with the Big Four, is still in the city. He came here to attend the meeting of the railroaders last week and remained over to visit old friends.

There is a meeting in progress today at Chicago between the Central Traffic association and the World's fair commission on transportation. The meeting was called to complete arrangements for freight rates on articles intended for exhibition at the fair.

C. H. Titus, who runs a switch engine at the Nickel Plate yards in Stony Island, accompanied by his wife, came to this city Saturday evening and remained over Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Titus. Young Mrs. Titus will remain here several weeks.

Miss Cora Isett, daughter of the Pittsburg painter whose sudden death THE SENTINEL noted some time ago, will leave today for Pittsburg, Pa. She was furnished transportation by the Pennsylvania company, a generous act which is applauded by the fellow workmen of the late Isett.

The Wabash took a large party of excursionists to Indianapolis yesterday. The party, which was in charge of James Adams and F. M. Murphy, returned last night and report themselves well pleased with the trip, especially with the courtesies shown them by the Wabash company.

ART EXCEPTIONS.

Recent Events at Westminster and Taylor University.

That art is becoming more generally appreciated in Fort Wayne as time wears on ought to be at once conceded by any one who is inclined to think otherwise, for the past year has marked a progress that is highly gratifying, not only to the close devotees themselves, but also to the many people of cultured tastes who make this city their home. An education without art is incomplete. Of the institutions which take especial pains with their art department are Westminster seminary and Taylor university, both of which held receptions last week.

On Saturday evening Westminster was thronged with visitors who availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the art collection there displayed. A bewildering sight it was, too. There were pastels, oil paintings, crayons and tapestries innumerable, and decorated China, the effect of all of which was heightened by decorations of natural flowers arranged with superb taste. The display was so extensive it would be useless to extoll the merits of the work except as a whole. The studies rent the visitors into raptures.

Miss Easley, the teacher in China decorating, had a large exhibit of her work, which, with that of her class, Mesdames H. G. Olds, J. M. Kane, J. W. Bell, L. Diether, Misses Valette Rurode, Maxie Nurley, Pauline Flint and Harriet Schulze, of Kendallville, was all admired. In the exhibit of oils, tapestry, crayon, and pastel there were numerous studies from nature. Among the tapestries were those from the brushes of Mrs. Judge C. M. Dawson, of this city; Misses Stella Albright and Bertha Hawks, of Goshen; exhibits in pastel work by Misses Nellie Walker, Mamie Montgomery and Grace Clugston were also worthy of note. The collection was exquisite, unique, charming, and such a feast as has never before been presented to the eyes of an artistic public in this city.

At Taylor university the work of thirty five students was on exhibition last Thursday evening and will be the greater part of the present week. All of the collection displayed represented the results of the past term. Outside of the work of the pupils, Miss Tibbals, the principal of the art department, has two oil pictures of Arabs and several charcoal sketches which were generally admired. A large cartoon drawing, "Music," made for the occasion, was also a fine piece of work. Carl Krauskopf also had on exhibition quite a number of pen and ink studies of animals, in which work he is quite proficient; also a large cartoon entitled "Art," which was a nice companion to the one executed by Miss Tibbals. The character of the work shown reflects much credit upon the principal, as it shows artistic results from the instruction under her care, for she has accomplished a grand conquest for Taylor university. About three hundred attended the reception, all of whom were highly pleased with everything, not forgetting to speak highly of the decorations which were made by Mr. Krauskopf. The principal and students are thankful to Col. Dickinson, Captain Bulger and Mr. Stockbridge for the loan of articles used in decorating.

Why Is It Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

If you do not receive your SENTINEL regularly, please notify us immediately, either in person or by postal card, that we may remedy the fault.

A suggestion: If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back allow us to suggest that you try the following simple remedy: Take a piece of flannel the size of the two hands, saturate it with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It will produce a pleasant warmth and relieve you of all pain. Many severe cases have been cured in this way. The Pain Balm can be obtained from druggists.

HE HAD A DREAM.

A Poem Dedicated to Trustee Brackenridge.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:

G. W. Brackenridge was lately presented with a beautiful chair. Last night he slept in it and had a dream. Allow me to ask him about that dream:

TO G. W. BRACKENRIDGE.

Did you dream of maidens around you wild dancing,
And all deeply thrilled with gratitude due?
With eyes lit with smiles that was oft on you glancing,
'Till double would grin if all was for you?

Did you dream that around you was maidens beseeching
For license to rule in a class of but one?
And did you consent that they could stop teaching,
And let them be wedded if hearts had been won?

Or did you resent the soft imputation.
The chair would imply you needed more ease.
Or deem it was meant as a sure indication
That you should reflect and try to more please?

Tell us, we pray you, what dreams was you haunting
When you was half lost in that highly prized chair.
Did visions of beauty around you come taunting?
Pray answer us, George, if the question is fair.
